Life Event Planning

Sample: Profile of Event

Event: Ukulele playing on Kalapaki Beach

Date of Event: June 10-20

Description of the role of needs and wants: On my upcoming trip to Kalapaki Beach, I want to be able to spend restful hours playing the ukulele. I want to have an instrument that is of high enough quality to make my efforts successful. I need to have some sort of instruction that is flexible and can work around my work schedule, so that I don't get too busy and give up.

Goal statement: My goal is to play the ukulele in Hawaii this Summer.

Description of the role of values and/ or priorities: My priorities are to move quickly on this project in order to allow myself sufficient practice time before Summer. I value the quality of the lessons, because I don't want to waste my time or money on lessons that aren't productive.

Summary of challenges: I see my biggest challenge as finding lessons that will motivate me to practice a lot and not give up.

Sample: Resources Summary

My biggest resource was the Internet. I was able to do 95% of my research online. I did call a local music store and spoke to a music teacher about what lessons at their school would be like, when they are offered and how much they would cost. I also went to my Mother's house to look at her ukulele and stopped by Guitar Showcase to see what the ukuleles looked like in person and more importantly what they sound like. All other research and shopping was done online. I learned that shopping for something like a musical instrument is probably best done in person so that you can feel and hear the instrument.

Resources
1	Guitar Showcase Salesman	Opportunity to try out instruments and speak to someone knowledgeable about ukuleles
2	The internet	In searching, I discovered that many online ukulele courses exist, many are completely free
3	Sarah Duarte	The music teacher at Willow Glen High School has played ukulele for 5 years and offered insight into whether it was worth starting with an expensive instrument or not.
